Equity Market Review

Q1 2014

After a very strong start to the year, equity markets floundered as fears of a meltdown in emerging markets erupted; this was amplified by a widespread sell-off in emerging currencies. Worries about the impact of tapering from the Fed and subsequent funds outflows compounded the problem. The market recovered as the emerging markets worries that erupted at the beginning of the year faded away. Most results announcements were broadly in line with expectations and this removed fears of a further weakening of the operating environment. The Ukrainian and Russian situations dominated news flow and sentiment during the month of March but the market recovered from the sell-off when it became apparent that the crisis was going to be contained.

The market was rocked by further tensions over Eastern Ukraine but recovered once again on the hope that the crisis will be contained. Macro news flow was relatively benign. The market continued to rally from its lows in April on a stabilisation of tensions between Russia and Ukraine, and on hopes for further supportive measures by the ECB. Despite some volatility, the market remained flat in June as it took the latest geopolitical crisis in Iraq in its stride. We did not see a fundamental change in the monetary policies being implemented in the EU which create a supportive environment.

The uncertainty over the Ukraine-Russia crisis continued in July. This, together with worries over a tapering in the US, added to the volatility in the markets with a sharp correction at the end of the month. The market recovered as sharply as it had fallen as it appeared once again that the crisis in Ukraine has been contained. Although the situation remained highly uncertain, the market was supported by comments from Mario Draghi's statement that he was considering quantitative easing in Europe in order to head off a potential deflation. The market's volatility continued in September with lingering uncertainty over the Ukraine-Russia crisis and the intensifying instability in the Middle East. On the economic front we saw signs of further weakening in Europe while the US economy kept moving ahead thus increasing fears on the back of the expectation of rate hike.

With renewed macro worries, combined with the uncertainty of the spread of Ebola and a difficult geopolitical environment, October had been the most volatile month this year to date. The results season so far did not yield major negative surprises, although expectations have been lowered throughout the summer and most corporate acknowledged the slow fundamentals. The market's recovery continued in November to reach the year's highs driven by investor repositioning after having been too bearish. December saw an acceleration of the declining oil price driving a general sell-off in other commodities. This led the European equity market down on the misperception that such a decline was a sign of weak demand when it mostly reflects a supply shock. The year ended on a positive note with the pronounced decline in the oil price which will provide relief to many areas of the economy.

ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES

Investment Objective

The objective of the sub-fund is to achieve annualized capital appreciation in the long term through a risk adjusted performance against the benchmark.

Investment Universe

The sub-fund mainly invests in equity and equity related securities issued by companies that are headquartered in Europe, have a majority of their assets or other interests in Europe or conduct the majority of their activity in or from Europe.

Investment Process

ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES's investment policy concentrates on the following philosophies:

- Undervalued companies over intrinsic value
- · High profitability and growth potential
- · Focus investments on the stocks with the most potential
- The avoidance of market excesses
- Humble, focused and motivated management with a good track record.

Risk control is an integral part of the investment process. The performance and risk profile of the sub-fund are reviewed continuously.

Performance Review 2014

Overall the sub-fund's class R performance for the Year 2014 (R share class - EUR) was up 10.15% while the benchmark (DJ Stoxx 600 EUR Return) was up 7.20%.

Performance of class R since inception compared to the benchmark

During the month of January, the ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES posted returns of 1.07%. This represents an outperformance of the Stoxx Europe Benchmark of 2.73% for the YTD.

Within the portfolio Banco Popular was one of the largest contributors, benefiting from a recovery in the Spanish economy and from lower funding costs across Europe. Western Digital reported good results and benefited from an improved hard disk drive environment. Coloplast reported results that were well above market expectations due to strong market share gains in the US just as their Wound Care business started to recover.

On the negative side, Sberbank was a direct victim of the emerging market worries and suffered declines in its share price. Carrefour also suffered as a result of a small miss in their French hypermarket margin. ASML shares were weak because of uncertainties linked to the development of their next generation technology.

During the month of February, the ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES posted returns of 5.23%. This represents an outperformance of the STOXX Europe 600 benchmark of 3.10% for the YTD.

Within the portfolio, Valeo continued its strong performance after reporting good results and providing a positive outlook for their business in 2014. The company remained a core holding of the portfolio for the quality of its management and valuation. Veolia published very good figures that were followed by upgrades for 2015 and 2016 numbers driven by a better management execution on their cost cutting programme. RWE benefited from the market finally catching up on the German government's change in stance in favour of thermal generation and away from renewables. On the negative side, Gazprom and Sberbank both suffered from the escalating tensions in Ukraine which led to a full-blown crisis in the early days of March. The fundamentals for both remained sound and we believed they would recover as the situation normalised. Seagate and Western Digital shares flattened following their full year results announcements while the market was rallying in Europe but there were no fundamental worries.

During the month of March, the ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES posted returns of 1.41%. This represents an outperformance of the STOXX Europe 600 benchmark of 5.42% for the YTD.

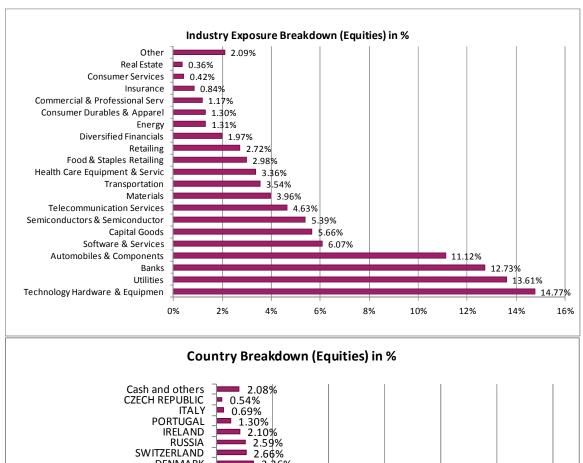

Within the portfolio, the hard disk drive manufacturers were the top contributors to performance as the market realised that the operating environment would be at least in line with expectations, providing a relief. There was also a raft of price cuts from the major online storage providers suggesting a rising demand into the second half of the year. Jazztel benefited from the consolidation moves in the Spanish market following the takeover of Ono by Vodafone and the continued strong execution of its fibre network rollout. On the negative side, the sub-fund suffered from its exposure to Gazprom and Sberbank which both fell as a result of the turmoil in Ukraine and the takeover of Crimea by Russia. Given the increased volatility in this market due to political developments we have reduced our exposure to these names. Neopost issued results in line with expectations but reduced its margin outlook as it invests in new growth drivers. We remained confident in the company's ability to grow despite its exposure to the mail market.

During the month of April, the ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES posted returns of -2.19%. This represents an outperformance of the STOXX Europe 600 benchmark of 1.45% for the YTD.

Lafarge was the largest contributor to performance with the news of a merger with Holcim. If this were to take place we believed it would create value to shareholders. Peugeot had a good performance following continued strong car registrations in Europe and the smooth execution of the capital increase. Micron benefited from evidence of continued favourable supply/demand dynamics in DRAM.

Conversely, Seagate and Western Digital both suffered from a weaker cloud demand in Q2 driven by a short destock cycle which is temporary and should reverse in H2. ASML weakened following indications that large foundry customers are moderating their new technology capacity rollouts thus impacting lithography demand. We continued to believe in the structural fundamentals of the industry.

This month's weaker performance was affected by some sector rotation towards more defensive stocks as well as stocks that have a high emerging markets exposure. We believed this to be a sentiment issue which would not affect the fundamentals of our high-conviction investments. Despite the increased volatility in European markets we did not change our stance and believed the environment to still be supported by the ECB's monetary policy.

The ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES was up +2.04% in May, bringing the YTD to 7.64%. This represents an outperformance of 0.89% over the benchmark YTD.

Within the portfolio, RWE was the top contributor to performance following comments from the company's CEO, highlighting a bottom in electricity generation prices. Micron performed well on further signs of strengthening demand. Iliad continued to benefit from consolidation talks in France regardless of the resulting combination. Conversely, Commerzbank reported weaker than expected results due to higher corporate costs and one-off costs despite continued orderly liquidation of the portfolio. Banco Comercial Portugues suffered from fears over a potential capital increase. Carrefour weakened on difficult pricing in the French market. The macro-based rotation into defensive sectors continued to impact the sub-fund, however the portfolio positioning remained unchanged. We believed this movement was losing momentum; we remained committed to our convictions.

The ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES posted a +1.06% return despite negative market performance in June with the DJ Stoxx Europe 600 down -0.52%. This brings the YTD performance to 8.79%.

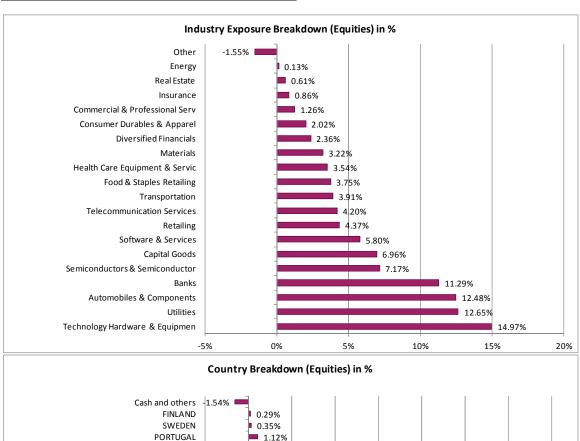

Within the portfolio, Micron Technology and the hard disk drive manufacturers performed well. All three benefited from a stabilisation of the PC market with Micron reporting good results and presenting a solid outlook for the second half of the year. RWE benefited from the most recent renewable energy reforms that have been enacted in Germany and that make renewable energy growth more controllable. Conversely, Legrand shares weakened after strong performance since the beginning of the year. Neopost suffered after reporting sales numbers below estimates although the company is comfortable about its pipeline and meeting its FY targets. We believed the company would be able to grow as it benefited from the initiatives it implemented in businesses peripheral to mail. Sports Direct suffered from a badly executed share placing and from a controversial compensation scheme. We continued to believe that the market underestimated the potential for UK profit growth and international growth. After two months of strong rotation into defensives we saw our high conviction ideas perform well again; this was helped by strong results showing that in most cases business plans were on track.

The ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES was down -2.95% in July, bringing the YTD to 5.58%. This represents an outperformance of 1.12% over the benchmark for the year to date.

Within the portfolio, the hard disk drive manufacturers continued to rally and ASML benefited from positive comments regarding the timing of their latest generation of equipment. Banco Commercial Portugues recovered after completing a capital increase that will enable it to reimburse the government's high-interest loan. Conversely, Valeo corrected despite results in line with estimates and the sector was weak because of profit-taking. Wirecard was down following a small broker report highlighting a lack of barriers to entry; however there was no fundamental underpinning to the analysis. Legrand's results were lower than expected as the company suffered from its exposure to the French market.

The ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES was up 1.89% in August, bringing the YTD to 7.55%. This represents an outperformance of 0.96% over the benchmark for the year to date.

The hard disk drive manufacturers together with Micron continued their recovery driven by good news in the PC market and positive comments for the second half of the year. Signet Jewellers reported very strong Q2 results and increased the cost savings estimates that it could achieve from a recent acquisition.

Banca Monte dei Paschi suffered after results showed the bank was strengthening its balance sheet ahead of regulatory tests, but the medium term investment case is intact. Iliad suffered from the much lower likelihood of consolidation in the French sector following the failed deal between Bouygues/Iliad. The company also made an unexpected bid for T-Mobile US which weighed on the share price. We believed that our interests were aligned with management given the CEO's 55% stake in the business and the company would remain disciplined in its M&A. Peugeot shares continued to suffer from profit taking after a strong performance in the preceding months. We believed the new CEO's arrival would continue to drive meaningful cost cutting and improved free cash-flow generation. Portfolio changes related to an increase in Energy exposure in selected segments.

The ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES was down -0.24% in September, bringing the YTD to 7.29%. This represents an outperformance of 0.28% over the benchmark for the year to date.

The market's volatility continued in September with lingering uncertainty over the Ukraine-Russia crisis and the intensifying instability in the Middle East. On the economic front we saw signs of further weakening in Europe while the US economy kept moving ahead thus increasing fears on the back of the expectation of rate hike.

Within the portfolio, Jazztel benefitted from a formal takeover offer by Orange which we believed significantly undervalued the company. Our views, that we would not tender our shares, were made public – this was also followed by some investors. Micron continued to perform well after publishing good Q2 results showing a favourable supply/demand environment. Neopost benefited from a reassuring Q2 sales release showing a return to growth and giving confidence that the full-year targets will be met.

Conversely, Seagate shares corrected after its investors day in a typical case of 'sky-high' expectations. Peabody shares were down as the supply/demand environment remained challenged; we expect a gradual recovery as the current coal price leads the weaker players out of the market. Carrefour suffered from a worsening economic environment in France and in Brazil.

Although the market had been indiscriminate in the sell-off of some of our names, we were holding on to our convictions and had taken advantage of specific situations to reinforce our positions. Within an uncertain growth environment we continued to focus on companies where the fundamentals can improve through industry consolidation, increased pricing power and re-leveraging potential amongst others.

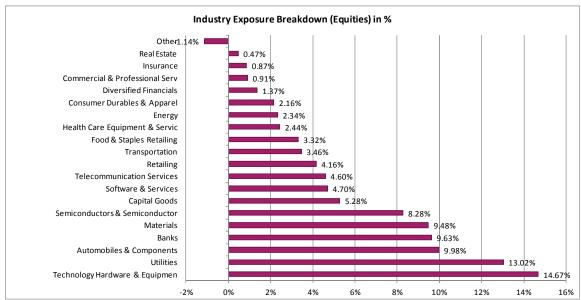

Past performance is not an indicator of current or future returns.

The ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES was down -1.76% in October, bringing the YTD performance to 5.41%. This represents an outperformance of 0.25% over the benchmark for the year to date.

Within the portfolio, Seagate and Western Digital published good Q3 results in line with high expectations and gave a positive outlook for Q4. Persimmon's share price benefited from good newsflow from UK housebuilders, as well as funds flowing out of the Eurozone and into the UK. Legrand also benefited from a positive read-through from competitors' results.

On the negative side, Banca Monte Dei Paschi Siena suffered from a EUR 2.1bn capital gap following the ECB's Comprehensive Assessment. Glencore shares were weak as a result of a sell-off in mining companies. RWE was penalised by the UK government's refusal to issue a comfort letter on the sale of their subsidiary DEA. We believed this only would delay the sale in the short-term without endangering it.

The volatility witnessed in October did not change our fundamental outlook and the boost that Europe was getting from an accommodating monetary policy.

The ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES was up 4.64% November, bringing the YTD to 10.29%. This represents an outperformance of 1.71% over the benchmark for the year to date.

Within the portfolio, Valeo recovered from its previous weakness which we believed was unfounded from the offset. Wirecard reported good results which were in line with its pre-announcement and provided strong 2015 guidance indicating EBITDA growth. Good results from Seagate following the positive sentiment of a good Q3 and encouraging visibility into next year. Conversely, Eiffage reported results below expectations and revised its guidance accordingly. Despite this short term worry we still believed that margins would strengthen. Banco Comercial Portugues pre-announced its Q3 results showing progress on costs offset by slow loan growth. The large declines in the oil price was good news for most economies across the globe and this together with the supportive monetary environment in Europe should overcome growth headwinds European companies are facing.

The ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES posted returns of -0.13% in December, with the benchmark falling - 1.28%. This resulted in YTD returns of +10.15% for the sub-fund, an outperformance of 2.95% over the benchmark.

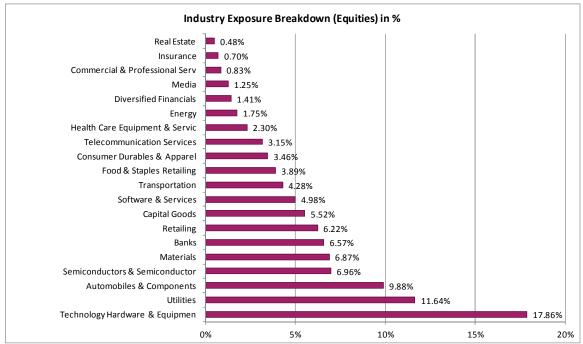

Within the portfolio, the hard disk drive manufacturers ended the year on historical highs driven by further evidence of a supportive environment, driven by PC stability and strong cloud deployment. Ryanair continued its strong performance driven by a falling oil price and we took advantage of the market sell-off in December to add to positions. Valeo recovered strongly after the mid-December sell-off. Conversely, RWE reflected the strong decline in German power prices, mainly driven by the decline in coal prices, and increased worries about the company's dividend policy. Commerzbank suffered from reports that US sanctions could be higher than expected however the company had already made a sizeable provision. Neopost weakened after downgrading FY 2014 expectations based on lower revenues and margins. Management mentioned a step down in French revenues. Offsetting this, the other businesses were performing well and the company had launched new initiatives early in 2014 which should have a full impact in 2015.

During the month of January, the ALKEN FUND - SMALL CAP EUROPE posted returns of 3.43%. This represents an outperformance of the Stoxx Total Market Small Cap of 3.05% for the YTD.

Within the portfolio Jazztel, Pitney Bowes and Neopost were the strongest contributors to performance. Jazztel continued to perform well following further speculation about consolidation in the Spanish telecoms market. Pitney Bowes delivered a strong set of results that was well above market expectations and that provided further proof of the credibility and good execution of management's strategy. Neopost benefited from changing perception of its business model after hosting a detailed presentation outlining opportunities to grow beyond the immediate mail business. Conversely, Beneteau suffered from profit taking after strong performance into the year-end that was compounded by a guidance given later in the month that was below expectations. Elringklinger announced results that were below expectations, largely due to forex movements and issued a cautious guidance to avoid further warnings.

During the month of February, the ALKEN FUND - SMALL CAP EUROPE posted returns of 8.88%. This represents an outperformance of the STOXX Total Market Small Cap benchmark of 5.34% for the YTD.

Within the portfolio REC Silicon and REC Solar were the top performers. REC Silicon benefited from a rise in polysilicon prices that started late in December and gathered momentum during January and February. REC Solar made a positive pre-announcement on Q4 results 23% above expectations. Valeo continued its strong performance after reporting good results and providing a positive outlook for their business in 2014. The company remained a core holding in the portfolio for the quality of its management and valuation. On the negative side, Western Digital shares were flat following their full year results announcements while the market was rallying in Europe but there were no fundamental worries. Telecity's 2014 guidance disappointed the market but it was due to an adverse forex environment rather than operational difficulties. As a whole we kept our constructive view on equity markets and keep looking

During the month of March, the ALKEN FUND - SMALL CAP EUROPE posted returns of 1.09%. This represents an outperformance of the STOXX Total Market Small Cap benchmark of 7.53% for the YTD.

Banca Ifis benefited from the rally in Italian banks with the change in government prompting hopes for an economic recovery. Jazztel benefited from the consolidation moves in the Spanish market following the takeover of Ono by Vodafone and the continued strong execution of its fibre network rollout. Brunel performed well following good results showing outperformance in the Dutch staffing market together with strong sales growth in the company's specialist energy business.

On the negative side, Neopost issued results in line with expectations but reduced its margin outlook as it invested in new growth drivers. We remained confident in the company's ability to grow despite its exposure to the mail market. The solar stocks were weak as news flow was subdued and polysilicon prices flattened after a strong rise.

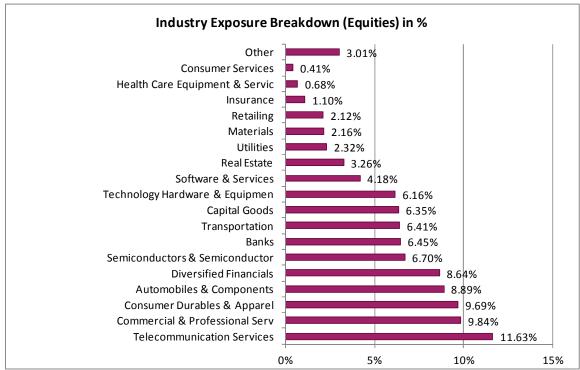

On the whole we did not change the sub-fund's positioning and did not see major changes in the underlying environment for the companies in the portfolio.

ALKEN FUND - SMALL CAP EUROPE sub-fund performance Q2 2014

During the month of April, the ALKEN FUND - SMALL CAP EUROPE posted returns of -1.52%. This represents an outperformance of the STOXX Total Market Small Cap benchmark of 7.14% for the YTD.

Beneteau published good results benefiting the shares after a period of under-performance. IPF shares were strong following good results highlighting once again the quality of management's execution. Pitney Bowes shares reported strong results showing revenue growth for the second quarter running driven by a moderating decline in their traditional mailing activities combined with strong growth in software. These results gave further credibility to management's strategy to turnaround the business. Conversely, the sub-fund suffered from its exposure to REC Silicon, the shares were weak as a result of flattening prices in polysilicon combined with worries of additional supply. The weakness was compounded by margin calls on local investors but this movement has been exhausted. Meyer Burger issued a profit warning for the year and raised capital. We continued to believe the company would benefit from increased demand in solar and an improving supply/demand environment for module manufacturers. Talk Talk shares consolidated after reaching a historical high in March. Despite the increased volatility in European markets we did not change our stance and believed the environment to still be supported by the ECB's monetary policy.

The ALKEN FUND - SMALL CAP EUROPE was up +1.73% in May, bringing the YTD to 14.04%. This represents an outperformance of 6.63% over the benchmark YTD.

Within the portfolio both REC Silicon and REC Solar performed well. REC Silicon reported results below expectations due to a longer-than-expected outage at it's plant but gave a reassuring message on its ramp up while the demand outlook remained strong. REC Solar reported results showing better-than-expected ASPs. Talk Talk recovered nicely after it published a good set of Q1 results and reported more detail to support their 2017 guidance helping to dispel some of the doubts the market had. On the negative side, Beneteau shares were weak following a small adjustment to their guidance because of slower emerging markets. Banca IFIS suffered from a general market caution towards Southern Europe. Banco Comercial Portugues shares were weak over fears related to a potential capital increase. The macrobased rotation into defensive sectors continued to impact the sub-fund, however the portfolio positioning remained unchanged. We believed this movement to be losing momentum; we remained committed to our convictions and saw more opportunities based on stock-picking.

The ALKEN FUND - SMALL CAP EUROPE was down -0.79% in June, bringing the YTD to 13.14%. This represents an outperformance of 7.05% over the benchmark for the year to date.

Within the portfolio, Beneteau shares went up after making a value-creating acquisition in the US. Drillisch appeared increasingly to be the main beneficiary of the German mobile market consolidation. Temenos benefited from a better outlook for their banking clients illustrated by a successful Temenos Community Forum held at the end of May.

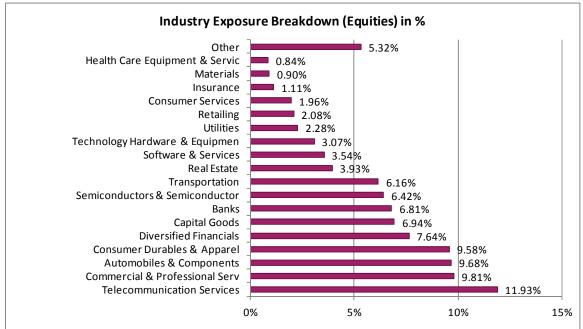

On the negative side, REC Solar and REC Silicon moved on very little news-flow while prices for their underlying products remained broadly stable. Thomas Cook suffered from weak results at the end of May compounded a few weeks later by a Lufthansa profit warning. After two months of strong rotation into defensives we saw our high conviction ideas perform well again; this was helped by strong results showing that in most cases business plans were on track.

The ALKEN FUND - SMALL CAP EUROPE was down -2.98% in July, bringing the YTD to 9.77%. This represents an outperformance of 6.27% over the benchmark for the year to date.

Within the portfolio, Berendsen performed well after issuing a trading update confirming that their business is on track with solid organic growth and margin progression. OneSavingsBank recovered from its low after its floatation. The bank is a challenger in the mortgage market with a focus on niche higher-margin growth segments. Peugeot's results showed a better-than-expected cash generation. Conversely, Valeo corrected despite results in line with estimates and the sector was weak because of profit-taking. Panalpina's restructuring was slower than expected resulting in margins below expectations. REC Solar suffered from a smaller-than-expected decline in its cost base but management was still confident on a meaningful reduction in the second half of the year. Although volatility remained relatively higher we did not see a change in the macro environment and kept our high conviction investments while looking for new opportunities.

The ALKEN FUND - SMALL CAP EUROPE was up 2.00% in August, bringing the YTD to 11.96%. This represents an outperformance of 7.13% over the benchmark for the year to date.

OneSavingsBank performed well after reporting good results. Banca Ifis recovered after reporting good results showing recovering core business earnings. REC Solar shares were strong after reporting two large contracts with US customers that will double their share in the US market, a premium market, in 2015. Iliad suffered from the much lower likelihood of consolidation in the French sector following the falling through of the Bouygues/Iliad deal. The company also made an unexpected bid for T-Mobile US which weighed on the share price. We believed that our interests were aligned with management given the CEO's 55% stake in the business and that the company would remain disciplined in its M&A. Peugeot shares continued to suffer from profit taking after a strong performance in the preceding months. We believed the new CEO's arrival would continue to drive meaningful cost cutting and improved free cash-flow generation. International Personal Finance shares were weak despite in-line results on concerns about the cost of entering the Spanish market. Portfolio changes related to an increase in Energy exposure in selected segments. We had not changed our outlook and maintained our constructive stance on European equity markets because of the supportive monetary policies being implemented by the ECB.

The ALKEN FUND - SMALL CAP EUROPE was down -1.67% in September, bringing the YTD to 10.10%. This represents an outperformance of 7.33% over the benchmark for the year to date.

Within the portfolio, Jazztel benefitted from a formal takeover offer by Orange which we believed significantly undervalued the company. Our views, that we would not tender our shares, were made public – this was also followed by some investors. Grand City Properties performed well after reporting strong results in August. Neopost benefited from a reassuring Q2 sales release showing a return to growth and giving confidence that the full-year targets will be met. Conversely, REC Silicon suffered from a decision by the Chinese government to close a loophole that had allowed US-based producers of polysilicon to avoid paying tariffs at Chinese customs. Although the headline announcement was clearly worrying, we believed REC Silicon would still be able to benefit from this loophole well into next year and that a compromise would be found as had been the case with previous solar disputes. Peabody shares were down as the supply/demand environment remained challenged; we expected a gradual recovery as the current coal price leads the weaker players out of the market. Drillisch shares were weak reflecting uncertainties on execution as they committed to buy up to 20% of Telefonica's current capacity over the next 5 years.

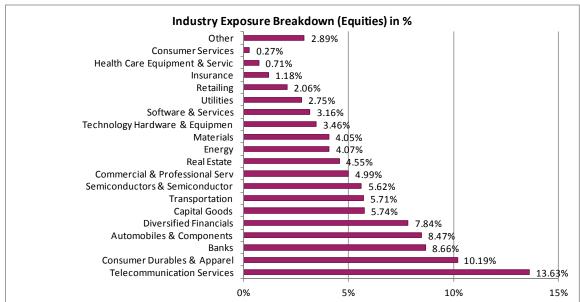

Although the market had been indiscriminate in the sell-off of some of our names, we are holding on to our convictions and had taken advantage of specific situations to reinforce our positions. Within an uncertain growth environment we continued to focus on companies where the fundamentals could improve through industry consolidation, increased pricing power and re-leveraging potential amongst others.

The ALKEN FUND - SMALL CAP EUROPE was down -2.83% in October, bringing the YTD performance to 6.98%. This represents an outperformance of 5.23% over the benchmark for the year to date.

Within the portfolio, Persimmon and Barratt's share price benefitted from good news-flow from UK housebuilders, as well as funds flowing out of the Eurozone and into the UK. REC Solar recovered after reporting strong results showing good execution on the cost reduction plans and outperforming the general decline in solar module prices. Drillisch recovered from a September broke downgrade and introduced new competitive offers early in October. On the negative side, Banca Ifis suffered from the sell-off in Italian banks following the release of the ECBs Comprehensive Assessment, although the bank was not directly affected by it. Peabody shares were weak as a result of a sell-off in mining companies. Beneteau was down on cyclical weakness. The volatility witnessed in October did not change our fundamental outlook and the boost that Europe was getting from an accommodating monetary policy.

The ALKEN FUND - SMALL CAP EUROPE was up 2.07% in November, bringing the YTD to 9.19%. This represents an outperformance of 5.31% over the benchmark for the year to date

Within the portfolio, Valeo recovered its previous weakness which we believed was unfounded from the offset. Grand City Properties reported strong results across the board and also saw its credit rating being upgraded to investment grade by S&P. REC Solar's board announced the acceptance of an offer to be purchased by Bluestar at a 27% premium to the last three months' average price. Lenzing announced strong results showing improved ASPs combined with good execution on its cost cutting programme. Conversely, REC Silicon suffered from a general sell-off on the Norwegian market despite reporting results above expectations and providing a confident forecast for the rest of the year. Whitehaven Coal was weakened because of a decline in the coal price. OneSavings Bank released an interim management statement showing over-delivery on all of its IPO targets but the shares remained weak despite this.

The ALKEN FUND - SMALL CAP EUROPE was up 0.29% in December, bringing the YTD to 9.50%. This represents an outperformance of 3.36% over the benchmark for the year to date.

Within the portfolio, OneSavingsBank was the top contributor following its IPO; investors have started seeing the merits of this specialty lender. Berendsen performed well after releasing an in-line trading statement highlighting good organic growth and margin progression despite a difficult economic environment. Grand City Properties continued its strong performance. Conversely, REC Silicon shares were weak following an announcement by the US Department of Commerce making a final decision on solar tariffs for Chinese modules. This increased the risk of retaliation from the Chinese government but we believed the company would be able to weather the storm. Neopost weakened after downgrading FY 2014 expectations based on lower revenues and margins. Management mentioned a step down in French revenues. Offsetting this, the other businesses were performing well and the company had launched new initiatives early in 2014 which we believed would have a full impact in 2015. Peabody suffered from the general sell-off in commodities which affected the coal price.

ALKEN FUND - ABSOLUTE RETURN EUROPE sub-fund performance Q1 2014

During the month of January the ALKEN FUND - ABSOLUTE RETURN EUROPE posted returns of 1.74%. The net exposure was 39.05% at the end of the month.

Within the portfolio, Peugeot was the strongest contributor as it recovered from year-end weakness following the first signs of a recovery in the European autos sector. The shares were also helped by clarification over the terms of the company's capital increase. Coloplast reported results that were well above market expectations thanks to strong market share gains in the US just as their Wound Care business started to recover. Banco Popular benefited from a recovery in the Spanish economy and from lower funding costs across Europe. On the negative side, Sberbank was a direct victim of the emerging market worries and suffered declines in its share price. Carrefour also suffered as a result of a small miss in their French hypermarket margin. ASML shares were weak because of uncertainties linked to the development of their next generation technology.

The ALKEN FUND - ABSOLUTE RETURN EUROPE I class posted returns of 1.97% in February. The net exposure was reduced in February to 35.81% at the end of the month.

Valeo continued its strong performance after reporting good results and providing a positive outlook for their business in 2014. The company remained a core holding of the portfolio for the quality of its management and valuation. REC Silicon benefited from a rise in polysilicon prices that started late in December and gathered momentum during January and February. Ryanair reported results in line with expectations but gave positive comments on yield improvement this summer, a key season for the company. On the negative side, Gazprom and Sberbank both suffered from the escalating tensions in Ukraine which led to a full-blown crisis in the early days of March. The fundamentals for both remain sound and they should recover as the situation normalises. Seagate shares were flat following their full year results announcements while the market was rallying in Europe but there were no fundamental worries.

The ALKEN FUND - ABSOLUTE RETURN EUROPE posted returns of 0.74% in March. The net exposure was reduced in March to 30.15% at the end of the month.

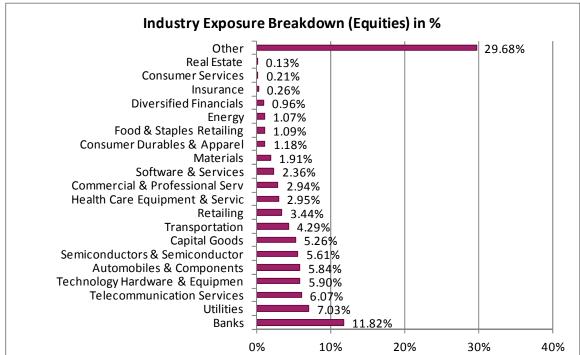

Seagate was the top contributor to performance as the market realised that the operating environment would be at least in line with expectations, providing a relief. There was also a raft of price cuts from the major online storage providers suggesting a rising demand into the second half of the year. Jazztel benefited from the consolidation moves in the Spanish market following the takeover of Ono by Vodafone and the continued strong execution of its fibre network rollout. Peugeot benefited from a faster than expected European car market recovery while gaining market share. On the negative side, the sub-fund suffered from its exposure to Gazprom and Sberbank which both fell as a result of the turmoil in Ukraine and the takeover of Crimea by Russia. Given the increased volatility in this market due to political developments we reduced our exposure to these names. Neopost issued results in line with expectations but reduced its margin outlook as it invests in new growth drivers. We remained confident in the company's ability to grow despite its exposure to the mail market. The solar stocks were weak as news flow was subdued and polysilicon prices flattened after a strong rise.

The ALKEN FUND - ABSOLUTE RETURN EUROPE posted returns of -2.44% in April. The net exposure was kept in line with that of the previous' month, dropping slightly on price impact to close at +26.14% at the end of the month.

Micron benefited from evidence of continued favourable supply/demand dynamics in DRAM. Legrand shares were up on the good results reported by its competitors implying a good operating environment for the company. Conversely, Talk Talk shares consolidated after reaching a historical high in March. Commerzbank had been volatile throughout the month with no fundamental reason. Ryanair suffered from worries over their full year results published in May. This month's weaker performance was affected by heavy sector rotation towards more defensive stocks as well as stocks that have a high emerging markets exposure. We believed this is to be a sentiment issue which would not affect the fundamentals of our high-conviction investments. Despite the increased volatility in European markets we did not change our stance and believe the environment to still be supported by the ECB's monetary policy.

ALKEN FUND - ABSOLUTE RETURN EUROPE was up +0.30% in May, bringing the YTD to 2.28%. The net and gross exposures finished the month slightly higher at 30.90% and 117.8% respectively.

The market continued to rally from its lows in April on a stabilisation of tensions between Russia and Ukraine, and on hopes for further supportive measures by the ECB.

Within the portfolio Micron performed well on further signs of strengthening demand. Talk Talk recovered nicely after it published a good set of Q1 results and reported more detail to support their 2017 guidance helping to dispel some of the doubts the market had. Iliad continued to benefit from consolidation talks in France regardless of the resulting combination. On the negative side, Commercial Portugues suffered from fears over a potential capital increase. Commerzbank reported weaker than expected results because of higher corporate costs and one-off costs despite continued orderly liquidation of the portfolio.

ALKEN FUND - ABSOLUTE RETURN EUROPE was up +0.47% in June, bringing the YTD to 2.76%. The net and gross exposures finished the month higher at 38.62% and 125.83% respectively.

Within the portfolio, Micron Technology and Seagate Technology performed well. Both benefited from a stabilisation of the PC market with Micron reporting good results and giving a solid outlook for the second half of the year. RWE benefited from the most recent renewable energy reforms that have been enacted in Germany that make renewable energy growth more controllable. Conversely, Sports Direct suffered from a badly executed share placing and from a controversial compensation scheme. We continue to believe that the market underestimated the potential for UL profit growth and international growth. Legrand shares weakened after strong performance since the beginning of the year. Air France shares suffered after a profit warning from Lufthansa.

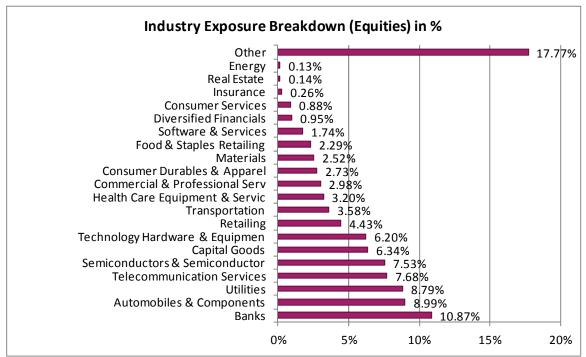

After two months of strong rotation into defensives we saw our high conviction ideas perform well again; this was helped by strong results showing that in most cases business plans were on track.

ALKEN FUND - ABSOLUTE RETURN EUROPE was down -1.07% in July, bringing the YTD to 1.66%. The net and gross exposures finished the month slightly higher at 43.10% and 130.68% respectively.

Within the portfolio, Enagas benefited from a lift in the uncertainty related to Spanish regulation which was a major hurdle to the share price performance. Another positive contributor was the hard disk drive manufacturers which continued their rally. Conversely, Legrand suffered as its results were lower than expected as the company suffered from its exposure to the French market. Micron suffered from an announcement by Samsung about capacity additions which means that the price increases will be less steep than expected. Commerzbank shares fell along with European banks but we remained confident that the restructuring efforts of the company would bring positive earnings surprises.

ALKEN FUND - ABSOLUTE RETURN EUROPE was down -0.87% in August, bringing the YTD to 0.76%. The net exposure was lower at 23.80%, while the gross exposure was increased to 160.90%.

The hard disk drive manufacturers together with Micron continued their recovery driven by good news in the PC market and positive comments for the second half of the year. Commerzbank shares recovered after weakness in the preceding months. Banca Monte dei Paschi shares were weak on concerns that an asset quality review may lead to higher loan loss provisions but we believed that its recent capital increase would help it cushion these charges. Iliad suffered from the much lower likelihood of consolidation in the French sector following the falling through of the Bouygues/Iliad deal. We believed that our interests were aligned with management given the CEO's 55% stake in the business and the company will remain disciplined in its M&A. The company also made an unexpected bid for T-Mobile US which weighed on the share price. Peugeot shares continued to suffer from profit taking after a strong performance in the preceding months. We believed the new CEO's arrival would continue to drive meaningful cost cutting and improved free cash-flow generation.

ALKEN FUND - ABSOLUTE RETURN EUROPE was down -1.40% in September, bringing the YTD to -0.65%. The net exposure was increased to 36.43%, while the gross exposure was increased to 167.30%.

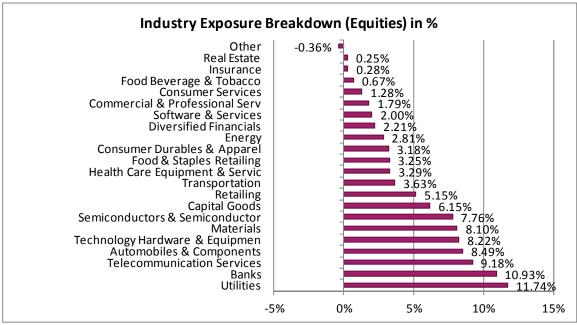

Within the portfolio, Jazztel benefitted from a formal takeover offer by Orange which we believed significantly undervalued the company. Our views, that we would not tender our shares, were made public – this was also followed by some investors. Micron continued to perform well after publishing good Q2 results showing a favourable supply/demand environment. Spirit Pub shares went up on rumours of a takeover offer from Greene King that was rejected by the company. Greene King confirmed that they had made an approach and had until October 21st to clarify their position. Conversely, Peabody shares were down as the supply/demand environment remained challenged; we expected a gradual recovery as the coal price lead the weaker players out of the market. SportsDirect were hurt by a sell-off in UK retailers. Carrefour suffered from a worsening economic environment in France and in Brazil.

ALKEN FUND - ABSOLUTE RETURN EUROPE was down -0.09% in October, bringing the YTD performance to -0.74%. The net exposure was reduced to 23.85%, while the gross exposure was increased to 174.97%.

Within the portfolio, Seagate and Western Digital published good Q3 results in line with high expectations and gave a positive outlook for Q4. Legrand benefited from a positive read-through from competitors' results. The sub-fund also benefited from short positions taken on selected companies in the oil sector before the oil price correction. On the negative side, Banca Monte Dei Paschi Siena suffered from a EUR 2.1bn gap that was identified following the ECB's Comprehensive Assessment. Glencore shares were weak as a result of a sell-off in mining companies. RWE was penalised by the UK government's refusal to issue a comfort letter on the sale of their subsidiary DEA. We believed this would only delays the sale in the short term without endangering it.

ALKEN FUND - ABSOLUTE RETURN EUROPE was up 3.87% in November, bringing the YTD to 3.11%. The net exposure was increased to 44.83%, while the gross exposure was decreased to 160.42%.

The sub-fund benefited from a number of short positions on oil-related stocks purchased before the decline in oil prices. We believed that we were entering a period of low oil prices for the next few years. Micron rode the positive sentiment triggered following a good Q3 and an encouraging forecast of visibility into the coming year. Conversely, the sub-fund suffered from a short position in a retail stock that went up following good October sales. GN Store Nord reported results slightly below expectations but the company reiterated its full-year outlook and the underlying revenue progression was determined as being good. Legrand announced results below expectations and guided investors towards the low-end of its target range; however we remained positive due to rising returns.

ALKEN FUND - ABSOLUTE RETURN EUROPE was up 1.11% in December, bringing the YTD to 4.25%. The net exposure was marginally increased to 43.16%, while the gross exposure was increased to 164.34%.

Western Digital ended the year on a historical high as a result of further evidence of a supportive environment, mostly driven by PC stability and strong cloud deployment. Ryanair continued its strong performance resulting from a falling oil price and we took advantage of the market sell-off in December to add to positions. The sub-fund also benefited from short positions on oil-exposed stocks that performed well with the continuing decline of oil prices.

Conversely, RWE reflected the strong decline in German power prices, mainly driven by the decline in coal prices and increased worries about the company's dividend policy. Commerzbank suffered from reports that US sanctions could be higher than expected but the company had already made a sizeable provision. Banca Monte Dei Paschi suffered from continued balance sheet uncertainty despite the recent ECB assessment.

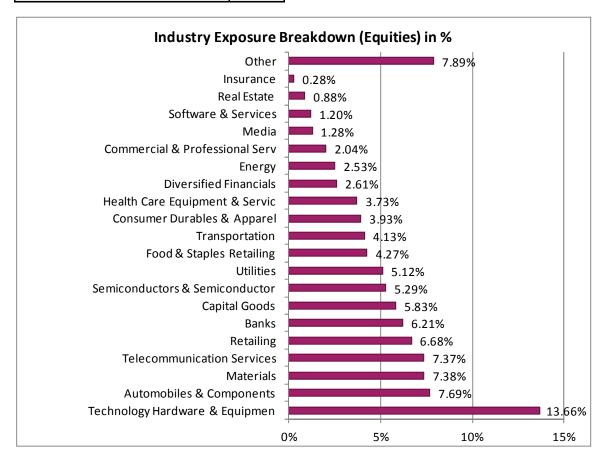

The year ended on a positive note with the pronounced decline in the oil price which will provide relief to many areas of the economy. We see this event together with a continuation of a favourable monetary policy in Europe as supportive for European equities in 2015.

Following our appointment by the Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders dated April 25, 2014, we have audited the accompanying financial statements of ALKEN FUND (the "SICAV") and of each of its sub-funds, which comprise the statement of net assets and the statement of investments and other net assets as at December 31, 2014 and the statement of operations and changes in net assets for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory notes to the financial statements.

Responsibility of the Board of Directors of the SICAV for the financial statements

The Board of Directors of the SICAV is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation of the financial statements and for such internal control as the Board of Directors of the SICAV determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Responsibility of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing as adopted for Luxembourg by the Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the réviseur d'entreprises agréé's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the réviseur d'entreprises agréé considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the Board of Directors of the SICAV, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Deloitte.

Other matter

Supplementary information included in the annual report has been reviewed in the context of our mandate but has not been subject to specific audit procedures carried out in accordance with the standards described above. Consequently, we express no opinion on such information. However, we have no observation to make concerning such information in the context of the financial statements taken as a whole.

Income and expenses in currencies other than the currency of the sub-fund are translated into the currency of the sub-fund at the exchange rate prevailing at the transaction date.

d) Valuation of investment securities

- 1) Securities and other assets listed or dealt in on a stock exchange or another regulated market are valued at the last available price; where such securities or other assets are listed or dealt in one or by more than one stock exchange or any other regulated market, the Board of Directors of the SICAV shall make regulations for the order of priority in which stock exchanges or other regulated markets are used for the provisions of prices of securities or assets.
- 2) Assets not listed or dealt in on a stock exchange or another organised market, or assets so listed or dealt in for which the last available price is not representative of a fair market value, are valued, prudently and in good faith by the Board of Directors of the SICAV, on the basis of their estimated sale prices.
- 3) Cash in hand or on deposit, bills and demand notes and accounts receivable, prepaid expenses, cash dividends and interest declared or accrued as aforesaid and not yet received will be valued at their face value with interest accrued.
- 4) The units/shares of open-ended undertakings for collective investment are valued on the basis of the last known Net Asset Value ("NAV") or, if the price so determined is not representative of their fair market value, are valued as the Board of Directors of the SICAV may deem fair and reasonable. Units/shares of closed-ended undertakings for collective investment are valued on the basis of their last available market value.
- 5) For each sub-fund, securities whose value is expressed in a currency other than the reference currency of that sub-fund are converted into that reference currency at the average rate between the last available buy/sell rate in Luxembourg or, failing that, in a financial centre which is most representative for those securities.
- 6) Any other security, instrument or asset will be valued, prudently and in good faith, on the basis of their estimated sale prices by the Board of Directors of the SICAV.

e) Net realised gain/loss on sales of investments

The net realised gain/loss on sales of investments is calculated on the basis of the average cost of the investments sold.

f) Cost of investment securities

Cost of investment securities in currencies other than the currency of the sub-fund is translated into the currency of the sub-fund at the exchange rate applicable at purchase date.

g) Valuation of forward exchange contracts

The unrealised gains or losses resulting from outstanding forward exchange contracts are determined on the basis of the forward rates applicable at the year-end and are recorded in the statement of net assets.

h) Valuation of futures contracts

The liquidating value of futures contracts dealt in on a stock exchange or another organized market is based on the last available settlement prices for the relevant NAV date published by such stock exchange or other regulated market where these particular futures contracts are traded. If a futures contract could not be liquidated on the valuation day of the relevant assets, the basis for determining the liquidating value of such contract is such value as the Board of Directors of the SICAV may deem fair and reasonable.

i) Valuation of contracts for difference ("CFD")

CFD are valued on the basis of the difference between the price of their underlying on the valuation date and on the acquisition date.

j) Accounting of futures contracts and CFD

Unrealised gains and losses on futures contracts and CFD are settled daily through the reception/payment of a cash amount corresponding to the daily increase/decrease of the market value of each opened future contract or CFD. Such cash amount is recorded under the caption "Cash at banks" in the statement of net assets and the corresponding amount is recorded under the caption "Net realised gain and/or loss on futures contracts" in the statement of operations and changes in net assets.

k) Income

Dividends are recorded at ex-date. Interest is recorded on an accrual basis.

I) Formation expenses

Formation expenses are amortised over a maximum period of five years.

m) Transaction fees

The transaction fees represent the costs incurred by each sub-fund in connection with purchases and sales of investments.

Transaction fees include brokerage fees as well as bank commissions, foreign tax, depositary fees and other transaction fees, and are included in the statement of operations and changes in net assets.

NOTE 3 "TAXE D'ABONNEMENT"

The SICAV's net assets are subject to a subscription tax ("Taxe d'abonnement") of 0.05% per annum payable at the end of each calendar quarter and calculated on the basis of the SICAV's total net assets at the end of the relevant quarter; such tax is reduced to 0.01% per annum in respect of share classes comprising institutional investors only (as per article 174 of the Law). This tax is not applicable for the portion of the assets of a sub-fund invested in other Luxembourg undertakings for collective investment already subject to "taxe d'abonnement".

NOTE 4 MANAGEMENT FEE

The Management Company is entitled to receive a management fee payable out of the net assets of the respective share class of the sub-fund on a quarterly basis at a maximum annual rate of:

| Sub-fund | Class | Up to |
|-------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ALKEN FUND - EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES | H R CH1 CH2 EU1 US1 US1h US2 GB1 U Z | 0.90% 1.50% 1.00% 1.50% 1.00% 1.00% 1.00% 1.50% 1.50% 1.50% 2.25% |

The Management Company is responsible for the payment of the fees and expenses of the Investment Manager and, where relevant, the distributors.

NOTE 5 PERFORMANCE FEE

The Management Company is also entitled to receive a performance fee that may be levied only in case there is a difference in favour of the Investor between the relative evolution of the relevant sub-fund and a reference index (i.e. an outperformance).

The performance fee is calculated and accrued at each Applicable NAV on the basis of NAV after deducting all expenses, the management fee (but not the performance fee) and adjusted for subscriptions and redemptions during the relevant performance year. Such performance fee is payable quarterly in arrears.

Details about the performance fee calculation method can be found in the latest appendices to the prospectus.

The performance fee for the year ended December 31, 2014 amounts to:

- EUR 31,244,550.90 for the sub-fund ALKEN FUND EUROPEAN OPPORTUNITIES,
- EUR 1,317,024.75 for the sub-fund ALKEN FUND SMALL CAP EUROPE,
- EUR 13,416,179.91 for the sub-fund ALKEN FUND ABSOLUTE RETURN EUROPE.

NOTE 6 OPERATING AND ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES

The Operating and administrative expenses are calculated as a percentage of the average daily net assets of each share class. They are accrued daily and payable quarterly at a maximum rate of 0.35% for all sub-fund or share class unless specified differently in the prospectus.

The Operating and administrative expenses cover:

- a) Expenses directly contracted by the SICAV, including but not limited to the Custodian fees and expenses, auditing fees and expenses, the Luxembourg Taxe d'Abonnement, "Directors" fees and reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Directors.
- b) A "fund servicing fee" paid to the Management Company which will be the remaining amount of the Operating and Administrative Expenses after deduction of the expenses detailed under section a) above.

The Management Company then bears all fees and expenses incurred in the day to day operation and administration of the SICAV, including but not limited to formation expenses such as organisation and registration costs, accounting expenses covering fund accounting and administration services; transfer agency expenses covering registrar and transfer agency services; the Administrative Agent and Domiciliary Agent services; the fees and reasonable out-of pocket expenses of the paying agents and representatives; legal fees and expenses; ongoing registration, listing and quotation fees, including translation expenses; the cost of publication of the Share prices and postage, telephone, facsimile transmission and other electronic means of communication; and the costs and expenses of preparing, printing, and distributing the Fund's Prospectus, Key Investors Information Documents or any offering document, financial reports and other documents made available to Shareholders. The expenses incurred by the Management Company in relation to the launch of additional sub-funds may, at the discretion of the Board of Directors, be capitalized and amortized over a period not exceeding five years, as permitted by Luxembourg law.

The Management Company instructs the SICAV to pay for the expenses directly contracted by it (as listed above) as well as for the SICAV Administrator Fees and Expenses directly out of the assets of the SICAV. In such case the fee due to the Management Company is reduced accordingly.

Operating and administrative expenses do not include Management fees, Performance fees, Taxes, Transactions Fees and Extraordinary Expenses.

NOTE 7 OTHER FEES PAYABLE

As at December 31, 2014, the other fees payable include mainly operating expenses.

NOTE 8 SUBSCRIPTION AND REDEMPTION COMMISSION (DILUTION LEVY)

The issue price for shares in each class is equal to the NAV of each share in that class, dated on the Business Day of the applicable day of subscription.

The redemption price for shares in each class is equal to the NAV of each share in that class dated the Business Day on which application for redemption has been accepted.

Under certain circumstances (for example, large volumes of deals) investment and/or disinvestment costs may have an adverse effect on the Shareholders' interest in the SICAV. In order to prevent this effect, called "dilution", the Board of Directors of the SICAV has the power to charge a "dilution levy" on the issue, redemption and/or conversion of shares. If charged, the dilution levy is paid into the relevant sub-fund and becomes part of the relevant sub-fund. The dilution levy for each sub-fund is calculated by reference to the costs of dealing in the underlying investments of that sub-fund, including any dealing spreads, commission and transfer taxes.

The need to charge a dilution levy depends on the volume of issues, redemptions or conversions. The Board of Directors of the SICAV may charge a discretionary dilution levy on the issue, redemption and/or conversion of shares, if in its opinion, the existing Shareholders (for issues) or remaining Shareholders (for redemptions) might otherwise be adversely affected. In any case the dilution levy shall not exceed 2.00% of the NAV per share.

In addition the issue or redemption price may be increased/reduced by sales commissions, which are paid to intermediaries and do not exceed:

- Maximum 3.00% of the NAV of each share for subscription,
- Maximum 3.00% of the NAV of each share for redemption.

The issue price/redemption price shall be increased/reduced to cover any duties, taxes and stamp duties which might have to be paid.

In addition, for the Class CH1, Class US1 and Class EU1: up to 2.00% of the NAV per share subscribed may be charged at the discretion of the Board of Directors of the SICAV for the benefit of the Management Company.
